

Q.P. Code: 203293

Reg. no.:

MD (Hom) Part II Degree Examination, November 2014

(2011 Scheme)

Specialty: Repertory

Repertory - Paper III

(Practice of Homoeopathy in Medicine, Surgery and Gynaecology & Obstetrics)

Time: 3 Hours

Total Marks: 100

- Answer all questions

Essays

(4x20=80)

1. Explain the aetio-pathogenesis, clinical features, diagnosis, miasmatic influence and homoeopathic management of rheumatic fever. Explain the role of Kent's repertory for creating totality of symptoms for a case of rheumatic fever.
2. Discuss the investigations and differential diagnosis of chronic headache . Discuss the therapeutic indication indicating miasmatic factors. Explain the role of Kent's repertory for creating totality of symptoms for a case of chronic headache.
3. What special precautions will you take for case taking in acute cases. What types of repertories are useful for repertorization of an acute case. Illustrate with examples of case taking in a case of pneumonia.
4. Explain the aetio-pathogenesis, clinical features, diagnosis and homoeopathic management of hyperthyroidism. Explain in detail about the reportorial evaluation of cases of hyperthyroidism.

Short notes:

(4x5=20)

5. Causes of post menopausal bleeding.
6. Chronic suppurative otitis media.
7. Clinical and laboratory diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis
8. Splenomegaly.
