Q.P.Code:104001

Reg. no.: .....

First Professional MBBS Degree Examinations, August 2012

Physiology – Paper II

Time: 3 Hours	Total Marks: 50
<ul> <li>Answer all questions</li> <li>Draw diagrams wherever necessary</li> </ul>
Long essay:	(10)
<ol> <li>A 30 years old female visits a clinic with the complains of weight voice and irregular periods for the past 3 months. Her blood invest decrease in the T3 and T4 levels and increase in the TSH level</li> <li>What is the clinical diagnosis</li> <li>Describe the clinical features and their physiological basis</li> <li>Discuss the steps involved in the synthesis of the hormone</li> </ol>
<ul> <li>Short essays:</li> <li>2. Role of aldosterone in maintaining ECF sodium concentration</li> <li>3. Tests for ovulation</li> </ul>	(2x5=10)
Answer briefly:	(5x3=15)
<ul> <li>4. Functions of CSF</li> <li>5. Cushing's syndrome.</li> <li>6. Impedance matching</li> <li>7. Adaptation of receptors</li> <li>8. Functions of oestrogen</li> </ul> Draw and label:	(2x2½=5)
<ol> <li>Visual pathway</li> <li>Stretch reflex and inverse stretch reflex</li> </ol>
Explain the physiological basis of the following	(5x2=10)
<ul> <li>11. Lactation amenorrhea</li> <li>12. Maximal visual acuity occurs at the fovea centralis</li> <li>13. Fever during infection</li> <li>14. Broad based gait in cerebellar lesion</li> <li>15. Hearing is impaired during severe cold or sore throat</li> </ul>

15. Hearing is impaired during severe cold or sore throat